

E-PR Online Inc.

To whom it may concern

Yuliya Aleksina as a member of an internship program for testers (an unpaid training practice) took part during the months of August and September 2023 in E-PR Online company's website manual testing and media catalog analytics.

Testing was carried out in 3 stages:

1. Catalog download, link authentication, finding links leading to the same or incorrect page.
2. Fixing additional statistics, such as the total volume of visitors to the media website or absence of this information.
3. Finding bugs and making bug reports

Yuliya Aleksina analyzed 207 media in the directory. Based on the testing results all identified comments were issued as bug reports in full compliance with the required format and requirements for technological documentation. The work completed and results shown by Yuliya indicate the presence of strong skills in manual testing as well as the ability to quickly delve into the task's specifics and successfully complete it.

I highly recommend Yuliya for employment. She is a team player and would make a great asset to any organization.

Sincerely,

CEO of E-PR Online Inc.
